Interesting Notes of Buffalo's Expo-

AVERAGE ATTENDANCE INCREASING

Special Days Which Are Expected to Attract Crowds.

MIDWAY FEATURES

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 25, 1901. The weather for the past week has been very favorable to the exposition; that is to say it has been bright and warm, almost hot. The daily average attendance has increased from 30,000 to 40,000; the hotter the day the larger the attendance. It is a matter of statistics that for the same relative period this average exceeds that of any previous expesition held in this country. There is not exactly complete satisfaction, however, as to the admissions, but considerable comfort is being obtained by comparison with the Chicago exposition, where something like three-fourths of the total attendance was recorded during the last two months of the fair.

This month has still a number of special days which will be big occasions. The German singing societies are now assembied in Buffalo several thousand strong and from now until the end of the month they will be at the exposition. Today and tomorrow are Odd Fellows' days and members of the 12,000 lodges of the country are arriving in large numbers. A feature of their visit that is interesting to others is the competitive drills of the uniformed bodies which are to occur in the Stadium.
Cincinnati day, the 28th instant, and Philadelphia day, the 29th, will bring many excursionists from these cities and the respective states of which they are represenspective states of which they are represen-tatives. Citizens of the District of Colum-bia are expected to be well represented on July 10, which has been designated Mary-land day. It will be attractive to those who find District day in September too late in the season. On the 2d of next month the Missouri building will be dedicated, and among those who are to participate are the state's officials and representatives in Congress, the directors of the St. Louis exposition of 1903, and many of the governors of the states included in the Louisiana purchase. Mr. Winston Churchill, author of "Richard Carvel," will speak.

A Big Fourth of July.

If the Fourth of July does not record an unprecedented number of visitors it will be a sad disappointment to both the exposition management and the city government. which has for some time been preparing an unusual celebration in honor of the pan-American achievement. Dominion day will be the first of next month, but for some unexplained reason the Canadians are re-ported anything but enthusiastic over the exposition.

Of all the recent events, including the dedication of the Mexican, the New England and the Minnesota buildings, and the visits of Mr. W. J. Bryan, Minister Wu Ting Fang, Gov. Van Sant of Minnesota and Mr. Cyril A. Pearson, the English journalist, that which it is hoped will mean much toward the exposition's future was the convention of the National Editor. was the convention of the National Editor-ial Association. The editors all went away speaking nothing but praise for the exposi-tion, and it is believed that as soon as they can find time they will publish in enthusi-astic style that the exposition is complete, that it is worthy of a visit, whether it be from the coast of Maine or the Guif of Mexico. As a matter of fact, visitors are coming for the single purpose of seeing the exposition from distant foreign countries.

Midway Opened Sunday.

Sunday was partially opened; that is, the restaurants. It is the second step of the management in the gradual wide opening of the Midway on the Sabbath. These resicenses, so drinks of the stronger variety were dispensed with food, consisting generally of a smal sandwich served and reserved at frequent intervals, but seldom

This suggests a brief statement of the main features of the Lane of Laughter, as t is termed. A few days ago the Filipino uth African villagers arrived. The Filipino is not to be seen strolling alone; always with a soldier boy, the two chat-ting most chummily. The other foreign villages are the Mexican, Japanese, Hawaiian, German, Venetian, Esquimaux and dian congress and the southern plantation The principal additional features are the glassblowers; the familiar Moorish palace; Kilauea volcano; cyclorama of the battle of Mission Ridge; Dreamland, a mirror maze; Around the World, national dan-cers; infant incubators, with living infants; Sun; aerio-cycle, the mammoth seesaw of the Omaha exposition, with little Ferris wheels at the ends; Chiquita, the living doll; Jerusalem and the Crucifixion; scenic railways and waterway; house upside down, first constructed at Paris, containing illusions; Darkness and Dawn, repre-senting heaven and the other place; trained horse Bonner, etc. There are many other shows which are worthy of a visit. In the Mexican village bull fights of a spirited character are to be witnessed. Mr. Bryan refused an invitation to see one, since he disapproves of such exhibitions. On the other hand, Gen. Miles seemed to be deeply interested throughout the per-formance he attended. These are said to tory ever held under electric light.

Yesterday and today cance races were run on the park lake, and were particularly interesting. They were conducted under the auspices of the American Canoe Association, and the contests were largely be-tween Americans and Canadians.

Daily Program. The daily program of the exposition embraces the following events: 8 a.m., gates open; 10 a.m., heavy artillery drill, north of government building; 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., band concerts; 2:30 p.m., life-saving drill, park lake; 2:30 to 5 p.m., band concerts, esplanade, plaza, etc.; 3 p.m., heavy artillery drill; 4 p.m., organ recital, Temple of Music; 7:30 p.m., skirmish drill by United States marines on esplanade; 7:30 to 10 p.m., band concerts; 8 p.m., organ recital; 8:30 p.m., illumination of buildings; 10:30 p.m., gates close; 11 p.m., lights out. All day: Model dairy barn, fifty-five world's champion milchers; view from top of electric tower; launches on lake and gondolas on canal; Mexican rurales and contingent; model brigade field United States army, south of government building; United States marine camp, east of government building; outdoor floral show, around women's building; fruit and hardy rose show, in horticulture building; biograph and graphophone school exhibitions, seven times daily, Interior Department space, government building. missioners to the exposition have organ-ized, and among the officers chosen is Mr. Juan S. Atwell, naval attache of the Argentine Republic in Washington, Mr Atwell has been stationed in the national cap-ital for a number of years, having married the daughter of a prominent real estate dealer there.

After visiting the ethnology building the visitor is likely to question whether a separate structure for ethnological exhibits was justified. Previous expositions have as a rule placed these in with other classifications. The building here is of itself one of the most pleasing of the smaller structures. It is circular, with a domed upper portion, and has a series of columns surrounding the base. It is situated at one of the corners formed by the intersection of the court of fountains by the esplanade, and by reason of its trimness and rich or-namentation well deserves this favored lo-

Ethnological Exhibits.

The exposition's archaeologist may deserve congratulation, for it requires money and a great deal of it to make creditable displays of any large extent, and in such profit from the investment. In brief, it be philanthropic interest, enough of which apparently has not been gained. The cases and objects, however, fairly occupy

Wholesome Advice

AND DIGESTION POOR. Dr. Harlandson, whose opinion in diseases is comes to me complaining of indigestion, loss of appetite, sour stomach, belching, sour, watery and a general run-down, nervous condition, I advise them to take after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, allowing the tablet to dissolve in the mouth, and thus mingle with the food eaten. The result is that the food is speedily digested before it has time to sour and ferment. These tablets will digest the food anyway whether the stomach wants to or not, because they contain harmless digestive principles, vegetable essences, pepsin and Golden Seal, which supply just what the weak stomach lacks.

I have advised the tablets with great su both in curing indigestion and to build up the tissues, increasing flesh in thin, nervous patients, whose real trouble was dyspepsia, and as soon as the stomach was put to rights they did not know what sickness was. A fifty-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be bought at any drug store, and as they are not a secret patent medicine, they can be used as often as desired with full assurance that they contain nothing barmful in the slightest degree; on the contrary, any one whose stomach is at all deranged will find great benefit from the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will cure any form of stomach weakness or disease except cancer of the stomach. je24,26&28-3t

the space in the building, and the displays of the University of Pennsylvania, Mexico, the Ohio Historical Society, among others present an attractive and complete appearance. The university exhibits a series of a dozen or more cases containing specimens of primitive games as traced to the pres-ent day. First come those played with dice, then the guessing or chance games, many varieties of ball games, hoop and pole, cup and ball, bow and arrow, and numerous other sorts of games. Many of them are of Indian origin and, with com-prehensive labels, much interest attaches to them. The series is supplemented by a number of games common in the Philippine Islands. The work of Mr. Stewart Culin of the university's museum, as this is recognized to be, although no mention is made of him, can be taken as the best in this line, for he is a widely known authority. At the National Museum in Washington, there are the statement of t ington there are several large collections made and installed by him.

There are skeletons and skulls galore; models of Indian effigy and burial mounds, with prehistoric implements and ornaments of bone, shell and stone; any number of arrow heads and stone axes, and so on.
It is almost a relief after examining these to visit the Mexican booth, where in pleasing fashion are displayed specimens of very fine weaving, pottery, painting, stone and wood carving, etc. The Mexican Indian work is unique and brilliant, and there is work is unique and brimant, and there is a certain finish to the entire booth, which is very attractive. The Ohlo Historical So-ciety devotes its space largely to objects taken from the Baum prehistoric village in Ross county, Ohio, explored during last year. It is an extensive collection, and the specimens are remarkably well pre-served. In the center of the building the society has a square inclosure, within which are four adult and three infant skeletons practically complete, and various odds and ends of bones, implements and ornaments belonging to the natives of this village of the past.

Domesticated Animals.

While domesticated animals and those hunted by man come under the ethnological building several large displays of taxidermy, commercial at that, which in proportion to the archaelogical objects seem there are good specimens of elk and deer and eagles and owls, together with representatives of nearly every other branch of the animal kingdom.

On the balcony are one or two exhibits which deserve special attention, as compared with those on the main floor, among which are Professor Starr's and that of the Ward natural science establishment. The province of Ontario, Canada, which has many exhibits in different buildings of the exposition, has also a creditable disa collection of oil portraits of representative Indians are interesting.

The ethnological objects all appeal strongly, of course, to the scientist and the stu-dent, but the farmer of western New York who strays into the building is not likely to think them half as good as the skeletons and the stone axes he has dug up in his garden plot many a time. A separate building was surely not justified.

Philippine Cotton Imports. A comparative statement, showing the importation of cotton manufactures into the Philippine Islands during the year 1900, as compared with 1809, has been prepared in the division of insular affairs of the

The statement shows during the calendar year 1900 cotton manufactures to the value of $8,729,777 were imported, as against $4,522,408 for the calendar year 1829, showing an increase of 93 per cent. Of this amount $92,082 worth came from the United States in 1900, as against $22,-846 worth in 1809, showing an increase of $69,236 or 303 per cent. The great bulk came from the United Kingdom and Spain.

War Department and is of interest.

Warships Going to Japan.

The cruiser New Orleans left Chefoo, China, today for Yokohama, Japan, presumably for the purpose of taking part in the exercises commemorating the unveiling of the Perry monument. It is left to Admiral Rodgers to designate the vessels which will go to Japan for that purpose, but it is thought here that the New Orleans, Bennington and Yorktown, together with the flagship New York, will constitute the naval representation at that ceremony.
